Garbage Disposal Machine Disposer

The waste processor processor is a modern kitchen appliance that is installed under the kitchen sink and connected to the drain. The cutter head is driven by an AC or DC motor, and the food waste in the crushing chamber is crushed by centrifugal force and discharged into the sewer.

The crushing chamber has a filtering function to automatically intercept the solid particles of food; the cutter head is provided with a 360-degree rotating impact head, which has no sharp edges, is safe, durable and maintenance-free. It is convenient to smash the food kitchen garbage such as the vegetable head and leftovers and discharge it into the sewer. The pulverized particles are less than 4 mm in diameter and do not block drains and sewers. It is easy to achieve instant, convenient and fast kitchen cleaning, avoiding the growth of germs, mosquitoes and odors caused by food waste, thus creating a healthy, clean and beautiful kitchen environment.

- 2, commercial food waste disposer

With the development of the economy and the improvement of people's living standards, a large number of people flock to the city, which has made great contributions to the prosperity and development of the city, but at the same time greatly increased the discharge of domestic garbage. More than half of modern household waste is food waste. Every year, the government has to invest a lot of manpower and resources to deal with garbage, but it is difficult to meet the increasing emissions. With the enhancement of residents' awareness of environmental protection and higher pursuit of living environment, the development prospect of food waste disposer will be very broad.
