Product Introduction

The metal 4 core tension clamp are applicable to four core self-supporting LV-ABC system. It is used for anchoring and tightening insulated conductors.

Without concentrated stress, it can protect and reduce vibration of optical cable. The whole set of optical cable anti-tension fittings includes: anti-tension pretwisted wire, matching connection fittings. The cable grip is no less than 95% of the rated tensile strength of the cable, easy to install, fast, reduce the construction cost. It is suitable for THE ADSS optical cable line with the distance ≤ 100 meters and line Angle $< 25^\circ$.

FEATURES:

- 1) High wire clip strength, reliable grip strength. The grip strength of the wire clip should be no less than 95% CUTS (strand tensile force is calculated).
- 2) The wire clip distributes the stress evenly, does not damage the wire, improves the anti-vibration ability of the wire, and greatly extends the service life of the wire.
- 3) Simple installation and convenient construction. Can greatly shorten the construction time, without any special tools, one person can complete the operation.
- 4) The installation quality of the clamp is easy to guarantee and can be inspected by naked eyes without special training.
- 5) Good corrosion resistance and high quality materials. The material is exactly the same with the wire, so the wire clamp has strong resistance to electrochemical corrosion.
